A CROSS ON HIS BACK.

It Was Made With Chalk, but Was Too Heavy to Carry.

There is a story of an envious tailor current with the French peasantry. He fancied that his neighbor, who received a pension for the loss of an arm incurred while fighting for his country, was better off than himself. Both men went to pay their rent on the same day.

"That's a lucky man," said the tailor to the landlord. "He gets well paid for his arm."

"But who would be willing to part with an arm, even if he were paid for it?" said the landlord.

"I would," declared the tailor.

"You!" cried the landlord. "Why, man, you wouldn't be willing to bear anything of the sort, no matter how much you were paid for it."

"I wish some one would try me."

"Now, see here," said the landlord, who had studied human nature. "I'll tell you what, if you'll wear even so much as a chalk mark on your back I'll remit your rent as long as you wear it on your coat so it can be seen, the condition being that you tell no one why it is there."

"Agreed," said the tailor eagerly.

"That's an easy way to pay rent!"

So the chalk mark in the form of a cross was made on the back of his coat, and the delighted landlord sallied forth upon the street.

Strangers and acquaintances hailed him to tell him of the mark on his back. Jokes were made at his expense, children laughed and pointed at him, and his wife annoyed him with questions and with conjugal familiarity told him he was a fool. The usually amiable man grew surly and morose; he shunned men, women and children and frequented back streets. Before the week was up the tailor found himself embroiled in a quarrel with his best friend, his wife had threatened to leave his house and he considered himself miserable and ill used.

Finally, one night he took off his coat and rubbed out the chalk mark and said: "There! I would not wear that cross on my back another week, no, not if I could have all the money there is in Paris!"—Youth's Companion.

SHAVING A DEAD MAN.

A Job That Occupied an Impetuous Artist About a Week.

"I have just finished shaving a dead man," said a local artist. "The job occupied me about a week and—"

"Good heavens!" ejaculated a horrified friend, "what d'ye mean?"

"Don't be alarmed," replied the artist calmly. "The operation was not as repulsive as you may imagine. In fact, I performed it with a brush. You see, a certain family of my acquaintance have a large oil painting of the head of the house, who departed from this vale of tears some time in the early eighties. At the time the portrait was made he wore a full beard, which was contrary to his usual custom, and the family, who remember him best with a smooth face, have been anxious ever since to get off the whiskers. I was engaged to shave the portrait, and hard times and approaching rent day persuaded me to accept the commission, which, needless to say, was highly antipathetic to my artistic instincts."

"I had to depend entirely on the recollection of the family for my data, and I found, to my alarm, that each member had retained a different impression of the old gentleman's chin. One claimed it was double and another insisted that it was sharp and clean cut; a daughter described it as 'square and determined,' and the widow assured me privately that it was shaped like the prow of an armored cruiser. Altogether I found myself in a deuce of a fix. It was no trouble to take off the whiskers; I did that in three fell swoops; but when I blocked out the jaw experimentally and called in the crowd for suggestions, there was a grand chorus of protest. Strange to say, I pleased nobody, and I have been correcting, amending, remodeling and doing it all over again ever since. One point of dispute was the location of a wart, which half the family said was on the left and half on the right. I finally effected a compromise by painting in two warts, one on each side. I got my fee all right, but before I take another tenuous job I'll go to driving a trolley car."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Swiss Funeral Custom.

In Switzerland death is attended by a custom which calls upon all charitable and Christian people to show their sympathy. A notice edged with a wide black line appears in the daily papers setting forth the day and hour when sympathizers must assemble before the house of the deceased. At the time named a little cloth covered table, supporting a good sized jar, is stood before the house, table, cloth and jar all being of a somber, ebony hue, and into the latter small mourning cards, bearing the name and address of their owners, are deposited. The day the funeral takes place is the day selected for the exhibition of the jar. No ladies are allowed to follow at a Swiss funeral.

Unexpected.

"Why, Clara," said a mother to her little daughter, who was crying, "what are you crying about?"

"O-cause," sobbed the little miss, "I started to make dolly a b-bonnet, and it c-came out b-bloomers!"

THE UNIVERSITY TROUBLE.

The board of Regents came together on the 16th instant to crush the rebellion at the University. When that honorable body had received its second wind it reduced the whereases in the language to form a whitewash base. Professors Jackson and Phillips were then pulverized and added to give the wash tone and color at a distance.

When the properties of the intended whitewash compound were chemically ascertained and its consistency learnedly considered, it was applied to President Stubbs, but the law of combination in chemistry, which is exact truth, prevailed and the intended whitewash did not work to the satisfaction of anybody except the Regents, who were color blind.

The Journal has supported the University and those who are and were identified with it at all times, and because of a feeling that injury would result to the students and the school, it has refrained from exposing matters that we are now persuaded should have been given to the public. Its shoe has passed to its other foot, as we are now persuaded that the good of the University and the youth of the State demand a change in methods at that institution.

One-man power is a prevailing evil in the State, and has become an evil at the University. Obedience to authority is absolutely necessary for the good of the school and the good of those who attend the institution. But it is not necessary that authority and obedience required should be represented by a knee at an angle of not less than ninety degrees.

It did not appear under any of the many whereases that flowed from the prolific whereases of the Regents that President Stubbs has neglected his work from the beginning of the first term of the present University year, but it did appear that Professor Jackson had been absent.

Professor Phillips, who could not discover any work marked out on the tressel board of the University, refused to conduct his classes on a blind trail, and was by the Regents unceremoniously kicked out, which is obedience to President Stubbs with power to sustain it.

The real cause against Jackson and Phillips is their individuality and consequent self respect, which are attributes to the human mind that were received as evidence of incompetency to do the required knee work at the University. Ending the physical knee is a small humiliation when it is compared with a bending of the mind and soul, which latter crushes all there is noble in man.

Individuality inborn has been the cause that has brought many an honorable man to the scaffold, or his head to the block. The principle that has required a surrender of individuality by passing a man to the dark side of the gates of death, is not dead but sleepeth, while it is suppressed by an active higher civilization. The severe pressure there is upon the principle does not prevent its out-cropping in our time as is witnessed by the civil decapitation of Jackson and Phillips, which has been the means of depriving the University of able instructors, and able supporters.

At Commencement in June of last year, President Stubbs had prepared to make a harvest of heads. The heads of Jackson and Phillips were not then included among those who should meet the two-edged reaper. The cause for the harvest was not incompetence. The cause was too much individuality, which is not allowable in any government in Nevada.

As the principle makes its appearance only in first class men, a removal of such men is necessary to open the way for dependent creatures whose characters are as the waving of a feather and whose native ability is represented by a bended knee.

Thinking about the late University episode, we wonder if the senior proprietor of the Journal has entirely forgotten that the school board, of which he was a member, * * dismissed Miss Short * * in a very summary manner.—Gazette.

Is it possible that the Gazette has been thinking? Thinking that it was thinking must be what it means.

Ridding the Town.

PERSONALS.

Miss Agnes Oesser of Gardnerville is visiting friends in this city.

Miss Bender of this city is visiting friends on the Comstock.

William Beard has returned from Iceland. He reports that only half a crop of ice has yet been stored.

J. Warrack, representing the Santa Fe system, is at the Riverside.

Harry Clark, the expert smelter, has returned from a visit to the Slegel mines in Southern Esmeralda.

Charles H. Fritchard of De Lamar is at the Palace.

F. W. Watt arrived from Santa Cruz yesterday.

James Byrnes, Jr., and Estella May Gilliam, who were made one Tuesday by Rev. Father Reynolds, departed yesterday for their home in Lovelock.

E. S. Pillsbury of San Francisco, an official of the Sunset T. and T. Co., is here on business for his company.

Charles Adams is an arrival from Elko.

B. King of Virginia was in town last evening on his way to Oakland.

Tomp Marra came down from Carson last evening. His ultimate destination is Seattle.

Very Short Crop.

There were filed for record in the Washoe county Recorder's office during the year just ended the following: Fifty-seven births, 186 burials and 318 marriages.

This shows an average of over twenty-six marriages per month, but the baby crop was away below the average.

George Lamkin Killed.

News received from General Otis at Manila says that George Lamkin was killed in action October 28th last. The young soldier was a stepson of Dan Emerson of Mason valley. He enlisted from Plumas county, and the flags were placed at half-mast at Quincy as a token of respect to his memory.

One Less Subscriber.

"Stop my paper!" exclaimed Regent Evans.

He would have given his reasons for this rash act, but we had no time to basken to his tale, for two local business men were waiting to have their names enrolled on our list of newly acquired readers.

University Graduate Weds.

RENO CORPORATION
HAS BEEN FORMEDWill Bore for Oil in the Western Foothills of the Sierra Nevadas.

A corporation was formed in this city a day or two ago, the purpose of which is to develop California oil fields.

The Great Northern Oil Company is its title. The company has acquired 1,280 acres of land at the juncture of the Union and Coalinga oil belts in Fresno and San Benito counties, Cal. The location of these lands is very favorable for the discovery of good flows of oil. The surrounding country is already producing largely and wells are being sunk by the score.

This is a Nevada incorporation. Senator W. J. Westerfield is President. David Kay, the Vice-President and Manager, is a wholesale dealer in livestock in Sacramento, but has large interests in this city and State. W. B. Dennison of Alameda is Secretary and Treasurer. Mr. Dennison was for eight years U. S. Consul to Nansaim, British Columbia.

Other directors are H. M. Martin, J. B. McCullough, L. D. Folsom and J. E. Jones, merchants of this city, and Will O. Kay, a prominent business man of Ogden.

The company is capitalized at $600,000. Shares are valued at $1 each.

A SURE CURE FOR COUGH.

Twenty-five Years' Constant Use without a Failure.

The first indication of cough is hoarseness, and in a child subject to that disease it may be taken as a sure sign of the approach of an attack. Following this hoarseness is a peculiar rough cough. If Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the cough appears, it will prevent an attack. It is used in many thousands of homes in this broad land and never disappoints the anxious mother. We have yet to learn of a single instance in which it has not proved effectual. No other preparation can show such a record—twenty-five years' constant use without a failure. Sale by Wm. Flingner, Druggist.

No Right to Ugliness

The woman who is lovely in face, form and temper will always have friends, but one who would be attractive must keep her health. If she is weak, sickly and all run down, she will be nervous and irritable. If she has constipation or kidney trouble, her impure blood will cause pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. Electric Bitters is the best medicine in the world to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to purify the blood. It gives strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvety skin, rich complexion. It will make a good looking, charming woman of a run-down invalid. Only 50 cents at S. J. Hodgkinson's drug store.

Whereas.

Whereas, whereas and whereas whereas—
What's the reason for all this whereasing? Such whereasing is seldom surpassed. In political razzle-dazzling.
ANOTHER FRIEND OF THE UNIVERSITY.

A Banker's Generosity.

In a chapter of reminiscences of Von Bunsen and his friends, in The Century, the Hon. John Bigelow tells this anecdote of Humboldt:

One day he was dining with Mendelssohn, the banker, and, an unusual thing for him, was very silent. His host, remarking it, observed to Humboldt that he was sure he must be ill. "No," said Humboldt, "but I am in great trouble. Only ten minutes before leaving my apartment to come here I received from my landlord a note informing me that he had sold the house in which I reside and that I must move. The very thought drives me to despair. I really cannot bear to move again."

Mendelssohn gradually led Humboldt into conversation, during which he found time to write a note and receive an answer to it. He then took Humboldt aside, and said: "By this note I learn that I am now the owner of the house in which you reside. The condition, however, upon which I have become its possessor is that you continue to occupy your apartment in it as long as you live."

Goat's Milk. Modern Medicine says that goat's milk, contrary to the general impression, differs from cow's milk not in being more digestible, but in being less digestible and less nutritious, although it contains a larger amount of solid matter than cow's milk. It is indeed the most indigestible of all milk. Goat's milk has a peculiar and unpleasant odor and flavor, due to lactic acid, or bircine. It contains an excess of fat and is therefore altogether too rich for an infant's diet.

His Was the Better.

"One day," says a writer in the Boston Transcript, "the mother of a 10-year-old boy gave him two slices of buttered bread, telling him to give one of them to his little sister. He carried out the order. That night when he went to bed he was evidently disturbed in his mind and remorseful about something, and his mother questioned him in a way to bring out the truth. 'I—I wasn't nice to Peggy about that bread and butter,' he owned. 'Why?' asked his mother. 'Did you take the bigger piece?' 'No,' he answered. 'Here was a little bigger than my piece was, but mine was a good deal buttered.'"

Seeds, Seeds, Seeds.

Congressman Newlands has received his quota of seeds for distribution in the State, and will send some to any one desiring them. Address all requests for seeds to Francis G. Newlands, Washington, D. C., House of Representatives.

Very sincerely yours,
Jan 14/01 FRANCIS G. NEWLANDS.

Stock Shipments.

Yesterday was the quietest day in the cattle market that has passed for some time. Only two carloads of cattle were sent out. There will be some heavy shipments made to-day.

INFORMATION REQUESTED

A Correspondent Would Like to Have Three Simple Questions Answered.

An anonymous contribution is usually thrown into our waste basket as soon as it is opened and read, but the matter which follows is so in accord with our own sentiments in the matter that we are willing to stand godfather to it.

PERTINENT QUESTIONS.

EDITOR JOURNAL.—In the whereases and wherefores of the Board of Regents regarding Professor Jackson's resignation and the subsequent resolutions, why in the name of common sense, did not the Board censure President Stubbs, who granted Jackson leave without the Board's permission or knowledge? The Board seemed to overlook the President's responsibility in this matter.

QUERY TWO.
The law provides that the President shall receive a liberal salary and among other duties shall teach a class. How can the President teach his class as the law directs while chasing cattle conventions and riding on a free pass?

QUERY THREE.
The law provides that no Mongolian help shall be employed at State Institutions. Has the President of the University obeyed this law? If so, how does he explain the Chinese cooks at the University boarding house?

TAXPAYER AND SUBSCRIBER.

Relieved from His Sufferings.

David, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Murphy, died at his home in this city Tuesday evening last. "Dave," as he was familiarly called, has been in the employ of Charles Harwood of Long Valley for the past year, and it was there that the poor boy received an injury which resulted in his death. A horse that Dave was riding stumbled, throwing him to the ground, bruising his side considerably, but it was not thought to be serious.

The young man suffered in silence for many weeks, until his condition became apparent to Mr. and Mrs. Harwood, who immediately set to work and did everything in their power to alleviate the poor boy's sufferings, but to no avail, and he was brought to Reno in the hopes that his young life might be saved, but death was lurking near. An abscess had begun to form and all realized that his sufferings would soon end.

The grim destroyer crossed the Murphy threshold Tuesday evening and carried away the soul of a good and noble young man.

He leaves a large circle of relatives and friends to mourn his untimely taking off. May he find rest and comfort in the world beyond.

Notice to the Public.

Any one who wears underwear socks, overshirts, etc., and is contemplating a change, would do well by making a call at A. Nelson's furnishing goods store, Virginia street, where he will find the most complete line of furnishing goods of all kinds in Reno, sold at the lowest living prices.

He carries all sizes of Hamilton Carhart's engineers' overalls and coats, Levi Strauss & Company's overalls, and Tostle, Wheeler & Matter's overalls and underwear. The above goods speak for themselves.

All the latest patterns of golf and winter caps, and the up-to-date styles in hats always on hand.

He also carries the most complete line of smoking and chewing tobacco, cigars, cigarette, smokers' articles, etc., on the coast, which he sells at wholesale and retail.

Free employment office in connection with the store.

The Other Side.

Conductor Wallston's story of the injury that befel John Henry Tuesday afternoon differs so materially from the tale told by the latter that it should be given publicity.

The conductor says that he had had considerable trouble with Henry and had put him off three times before he met with his accident. Wallston is a man with a clean record and his talk is probably straight.

Henry has put his case into the hands of an attorney and will sue for damages.

Was a Poser.

Last evening a young man registered at the Riverside hotel, signing himself George Sommers, "His Better Half Com." The scribbler concluded that this meant that the gentleman's wife was expected soon, and entered something to that effect in his notebook. "What's at you, you gazaboo?" said the clerk. "That means that Sommers is advance agent for the Better Half Company—see?"

CALM TWIXT THE STORMS

A Dissertation on the Facts in the Case.

The Board of Regents through their official organ will not permit the incident to close. Perhaps it is just as well to keep the wound open until the pus escapes, otherwise the suppressed mortification might result fatally.

The trouble is of many months' standing. It originated, in fact, about the time of Dr. Stubbs' inauguration. Professor Jackson had declined to allow his name to be presented for the presidency of the institution, which, we have indisputable evidence, was practically offered him.

Dr. Stubbs was directed (perhaps requested is the better word) to be guided by the advice of Prof. Jackson in administering the duties of this office.

This was done for some years and the University flourished thereby. At last, not so many months ago, there arose an unpleasant episode. The advice of Professor Jackson in a matter connected with the graduation of certain students last year was disregarded. The Doctor, we are reliably informed, desired to grant a diploma to a deficient pupil, but one who was the daughter of a very influential man. The reason for the Doctor's wish in this matter need not be stated.

The members of the faculty, even including Professor Thurtell, protested in a body, Jackson being spokesman. The public is too well aware of the subsequent facts in this case to care for a recital of them.

After this time Jackson was a marked man. To all outward appearances the President's feeling toward him was unaltered but the day of friendship had gone by. The President no longer sought the aid and advice of his chief counsellor.

It is a remarkable coincidence that at this time the star of the President's greatness began to sink rapidly down the western sky. People began to say: "Stubbs has lost his grip."

The old Scottish saying "Many a mickle makes a muckle" is applicable

in this instance. This is what has caused the feeling to grow up in this city and throughout the State (that Dr. Stubbs is, or ought to be, nearing the end of his reign. Knowledge of this feeling is what has impelled the Doctor to put up his hard fight for the chancellorship of the Nebraska university.

The doctor is an adept at covering his tracks. When he departed for the east last October he first came to a verbal understanding with Professor Jackson regarding the latter's leave of absence. Why, then, did he reiterate all this in a letter of endeavoring phrases? The doctor wished the affair to become a matter of record, that he might use it when the expected cloud of trouble drew near.

There is no need to thresh over the old straw in the matter of the conversation and letters between the president and the professor. There is one matter, however, that must be mentioned in justification of Professor Jackson's course and in proof that he did not contemplate resignation, but was forced into it. There is evidence at the Washoe County bank that Professor Jackson, who was hard pressed for money, having been disappointed in returns from his mine, discounted his salary warrants for January and February.

Does this look like a voluntary and uncalculated resignation?

Dr. Phillips has been subjected to disgraceful abuse from the Regents' official organ for "his childish, melodramatic 'me too' retirement."

When Dr. Stubbs returns we will make it a point to interview him regarding the affront that the board, through the president, visited upon this gentleman. Dr. Phillips says he requested of the president an explanation of the unprecedented and unjust action, and received no satisfaction.

Dr. Stubbs, and no one else, procured the resignation of Professor Jackson and the expelling of Dr. Phillips. Under the laws of the State the president shall appoint and remove members of the faculty, his action to be passed upon by the board.

The JOURNAL proposes to calmly and dispassionately dissect the entire affair and lay all the facts at its disposal before the public, believing that permanent good will result thereby to the University.

SOME WADSWORTH "DISPATCHES"

News of the Busy Little City Down the Truckee River.

Nearly all the ice houses in town have been filled with ice from the upper Truckee.

Conductor Charles Martin and wife have returned from the east, where they have been for over a month.

After four unsuccessful attempts by the prosecuting witness to obtain counsel the celebrated case was dismissed.

The depositions of several witnesses were taken to-day in Yeargin vs Southern Pacific Company. Yeargin lost his life while in the employ of defendant corporation.

The number of drunken Indians around for the past week ought to be incentive enough to locate the sellers and send them to the pen. We hope it will be done, as selling whiskey to Indians caused the loss of at least seven lives during 1899.

His Life Was Saved.

Mr. J. E. Lilly, a prominent citizen of Hannibal, Mo., lately had a wonderful deliverance from a frightful death. In telling of it he says: "I was taken with Typhoid Fever, that ran into Pneumonia. My lungs became hardened. I was so weak I couldn't even sit up in bed. Nothing helped me. I expected to soon die of Consumption, when I heard of Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle gave relief. I continued to use it, and now am well and strong. I can't say too much in its praise." This marvelous medicine is the surest and quickest cure in the world for all Throat and Lung Trouble. Regular sizes 50 cents and $1.00. Trial bottles free at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store; every bottle guaranteed.

Volcanic Eruptions

Are grand, but Skin Eruptions rob life of joy. Bucklen's Arnica Salve cures them; also Old, Running and Fever Sores, Ulcers, Boils, Felons, Corns, Warts, Cuts, Bruises, Burns, Scalds, Chapped hands, Chilblains. Best Pile cure on earth. Drives out poisons and aches. Only 25 cts. a box. Cure guaranteed. Sold by S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store.

In Reply.

No, "Inquiring Friend." Dr. Phillips did not resign his position. He was removed and without, in our judgment, any cause other than that he possessed too much individuality to suit an "I am" president and a "we are" board.

Captured the Murderer.

Joe Pete, the Washoe who murdered Will Dangberg, was handed over to the authorities Tuesday evening by his fellow tribesmen. He is in the Carson jail.
